Largest Circulation in the District Reading Matter on Every Page. WASHINGTON CITY:

THURSDAY October 12, 1871. Chicago is in ashes, but there is one thing the fire could not destroy, and that is the indestructible energy and business enterprise of her citizens. The flames were not yet extinguished when we were informed that five or six daily newspapers were preparing to resume publication in the midst of the smoke and fire; that an chant to Buffale for 250,000 bricks to commence rebuilding; and that another Chicago merchant in New York had evinced the enterprise and courage of his class by buying sugars and syrups to stock the new store which he is going to open in Chicago-his old place being in ashes-saying:-"We shall strain every nerve to start again at once, and believe we can have a store built and in operation by the time we can receive these goods." It must be remembered that the plucky proprietors of the burnt newspaper offices had their buildings, presses, type, paper and books-worth enormous sums-destroyed, and that the merchants were no better off. It is this bold indomitable American spirit which raised a metropolis full of magnificent buildings in the brief term of forty years-a grand city rising like an exhalation from the marshes and sands of the southwestern shore of Lake Michigan until it was one of the wonders of the world; and it is that same spirit which will accomplish a greater miracle by the reconstruction of the burnt city out of its ashes more beautiful and durable than ever, in as many months as before it took years. Already, from the smouldering embers, the city is gathering strength for a renewed career of prosperous activity, and the elasticity of a community which built it within the limits of a brief lifetime, raised its foundations again and again from the morass, drove a tunnel under Lake Michigan, and turned the course of a river against its natural flow, will be equal to even the present emergency. Although five-sixths of London within the walls were destroyed by the fire of 1666, which raged four days and nights, the streets laid waste were nearly all rebuilt in four years. Chicago, a representative city of American vigor and bold enterprise, will do better. With her own recuperative qualities, and the help and co-operation of a great nation, which has an interest in restoring her to her former prosperity, she will arise from her ashes, stronger, better, and more beautiful than before the lamentable disaster which destroyed hundreds of human lives, and two hundred million dollars worth oi substantial property.

The international yacht race in New York harbor for the Queen's cup hangs fire. The New York Yacht Club instructed their special committee to arrange with Commodore Ashbury, as representative of the Royal Harwich Yacht Club only, for a series of races, to determine the possession of America's cup, to consist of three races over the regular course of the club, and three over an outside course, twenty miles out from the lightship and return, and in case of a tie another race over one of the above to be sailed, the winner of a majority of races to determine the possession of the cup. Commodore Ashbury refuses to sail less than twelve races, and says if the New Yorkers won't ac-cede to that he will either sail his yacht-the Livenia-over the course and demand the cup, which he does not expect to get, or else he will depart with the Livonia for H'old H'England.

The chairman of the Ohio republican State committee telegraphs that sufficient returns have been received to insure a republican majority in the Legislature of twenty-one on joint ballotfifteen in House and six in Senate, and that Noyes' majority will reach about thirty thou-

Later returns from Pennsylvania make sure the success of the republican State and Philadelphia municipal tickets, and insure that party the control of both houses of the Legislature. In Iowa, Colonel C. C. Carpenter, the republican candidate for Governor, will have 45,000 majority. The republicans lose one State Representative in Polk, one in Henry, one in Webster, one in Jefferson, and all in Johnson, and gain one in Dubuque.

The people of Rhode Island voted on Monday last against the three proposed amendments to their constitution. First, to remove the real estate qualification from foreign born citizens; second, to abolish the registry tax, and third, to prohibit the appropriation of public money to sectarian schools. All these propositions failedthe first and second being rejected by large majorities, and the third, although it received a majority, of the votes cast, lacked the necessary three-fifths, and was consequently defeated.

We have not yet had the last of the Heligoland affair. The Islanders, with wonderful unanimity, have sent a petition to Emperor William. signed by every man on the Island, asking him to bring about the annexation of their rocky isle to Germany. If Great Britain lets the Heligolanders go, Ireland should follow suit with a petition for annexation to the United

The elections in France proceeded very quietly. The Republicans have been mainly successful in the large cities, while the Bonapartists have been triumphant in the rural districts of central France. The Duc d'Aumale is elected and M. Gambetta defeated. The Thiers government appears to have been unsuccessful Picard and Forcade have been defeated and Generals Faidherbe and Ducrot elected.

Chicago merchants and business men have always responded liberally to every appeal for aid when great disasters have overtaken other communities. Now is the time that their bread thus cast upon the waters should be returned to

WASHINGTON, D. C.. June 24, 1871.

Dear Sir: I have given your BALM OF LIFE for the hair a fair trial, and am much pleased with its effects. It is a healthful wash for both the scalp and hair; and its influence to sooth the nerves and revive the system when exhausted from overwork is most delightful. I have not used it except as a wash, but on your recommendation, and from the faith its use, thus far, has secured from me, I should feel great confidence in taking it as a medicine, according to your directions.

Very respectfully yours,

Prof. Cook.

Dear Professor:
After using your BALM OF LIFE in many instances of disorders in my family, I am glad to say it affords the relief sought. For diarrhea, colic, sick headache, catarrh, cough, and all external inflam mation I am convinced of its efficacy, by use.
